September Maintenance Tip!

How to find the required part number to set an order?

Kornit Digital provides a parts catalog for each of its printing machines; each catalog comprises comprehensive illustrated lists of all the replaceable parts of a Kornit printer.

To allocate the part number of a specific item, search for the figure of the assembly in which the item is installed. The figure displays all the replaceable items of that assembly, where each item is identified by a different number. The table that follows the figure provides the part number and description for each of the items depicted in the figure.

The parts catalogs may be found in Kornit ICS website under the Download Center at www.kornitICS.com and in the following links:
